Oak table with a glass drop

Gemma Hollis Designer Maker

oak, glass, steel

My work is primarily influenced by nature. Creating unique combinations between traditional techniques and contemporary materials; i specialise mainly in kiln formed glass, which i combine with raw materials. My pieces are bespoke and functional items that you would hand down from generations to generation.

This collection of work I have created has been influenced by the idea of bird cavities in trees left behind by woodpeckers. This has been reflected within the fused glass pieces.
